Things you will need:
can with small holes in the bottom medium size jar with lid
hot water

Obtain your ashes preferably from a black jack tree. Put your ashes into the can that has the small holes at the bottom, pour hot water over the ashes and allow it to drain into the jar. You can put a cloth over your jar to help catch the ashes from going into your jar. Once you have a sufficient amount of lye, pour into the jar until the jar is full and seal with a lid until you are ready to use.
